Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-5, drawn to friction stir-spot welding method wherein the rotation shaft of the welding tool is tilted.

Group II, claim(s) 6-14, drawn to friction stir-spot welding apparatus including a rotation shaft conversion device for tilting the welding tool.

Tilted rotation shaft of the welding tool is a common technical feature of Inventions I and II. However, Yoshinaga (US 2002/0190104) discloses tilted rotation shaft in friction stir welding and so it is not Applicant's contribution over prior art. Thus, tilted rotation shaft is not a special technical feature and claims 1-14 fail to form a single general inventive concept. Therefore, unity of invention is lacking and restriction is proper.

Upon election of Group II, a further election is required.

Group III, claim(s) 6-10, drawn to friction stir-spot welding apparatus including a driving device, and a rotation shaft conversion device.

Group IV, claim(s) 11-14, drawn to friction stir-spot welding apparatus including a rotation shaft conversion device.

Art Unit: 1793

Rotation shaft conversion device is a common technical feature of above claims.

However, Hirano et al. (US 6540128) discloses rotation shaft conversion device for tilting the welding head. Thus, providing rotation shaft conversion device is not a special technical feature and the claims fail to form a single general inventive concept.

Therefore, unity of invention is lacking and restriction is proper.

Upon election of Group III or IV, a further species election is required.

Group A: Rotation shaft conversion device comprising a hummer and a stopper, as shown in Figure 1 [appears to be claim 8 in group III OR claim 12 in group IV].

Group B: Rotation shaft conversion device comprising an air cylinder, and a rod, as shown in Figure 10 [appears to be claim 9 in group III OR claim 13 in group IV].

2. A telephone call was made to William Solomon on 8/14/08 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention to be examined and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.
